

Name: Tony Rocco Hepp

Birthday: 2/25/75

Education: Diploma, Bentonville High School, Bentonville, Arkansas, 1993

B.S. in Mechanical Engineering, University of Arkansas-Fayetteville, 1997

Master of Divinity, The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, 2007

Professional Work Experience:

- 1) Jan 1998-Oct 1999, Manufacturing Engineer for Halliburton Energy Services
- 2) Oct 1999-Dec 2003, Research & Development Engineer for Lennox Industries
- 3) Sept 2007-Dec 2007, Upper School Teacher for Providence Classical School of Spring, TX
- 4) Aug 2008-present, Mechanical Engineer for National Oilwell Varco

Interests: Christian apologetics and evangelism, ethics, Islam, weapons, solar energy

Favorite Book (other than the Bible): The History and Theology of Calvinism by Curt Daniel

Favorite Living Author: John Frame

Favorite Dead Author: Greg Bahnsen

Favorite Musical Genre: 80s

Favorite Fishing Lure: beetlespin

Favorite Color: royal blue

Soteriological Position: Calvinistic

Apologetic Position: Presuppositional (however misleading this label is)

Eschatological Position: Amillennial

Ecclesiological Position: Congregational with a plurality of elders

Greatest Moment in My Life: When God, by His grace alone, delivered me from the authority of Satan, and transferred me into the kingdom of His beloved Son, Jesus Christ. Read my full conversion testimony here.

Current Major Goals in Life: 1) Walk daily with the Lord Jesus Christ, 2) Love my wife and daughter, 3) Serve the body of Christ in the church of which I am a member, 4) Earn a PhD in epistemology or apologetics

Favorite Songs: “Why Was I a Guest” by Isaac Watts, “Knowing You” by Graham Kendrick, “Romans Doxology” by John Elliott

Peeves: 1) Being interrupted when talking, 2) Drivers who do not immediately accelerate when the light turns green, 3) Drivers who do not use their turn signals, 4) Screen doors, 5) Classmates who answer other student’s questions posed to the teacher, 6) Loud women